

Outdoor Club Outings

January 2019

The week ended on a high note, with the first Outdoor Club outing being an enjoyable sunset hike on Melkbos beach on Friday, 25 January.

Even though it was a bit windy, we had great fun and even saw Mrs Smith walking her dog. We then stopped off for ice-cream before heading back to school.

We had an early start the next day, making our way on our second outing to the West Coast Fossil Park. When we arrived, we started dissecting owl pellets which was fascinating – you won't believe what owls eat!

We then enjoyed a tour of the main facilities, which was a treat, as most of us have never seen fossils before. We learnt about a short-necked giraffe, an African bear and a mammoth, with no fur.

The dig site was very interesting as we got to learn about the landscape from five million years ago.

After an enjoyable morning, we left this amazing location and set off home.
